Dated 11/11/44
I. AWARD OF DISTINGUISHED-SERVICE CROSS.

II. AWARD OF AIR MEDAL.

ORIGINAL ORDER - ~~RECEIVED~~

I. AWARD OF DISTINGUISHED-SERVICE CROSS. By direction of the President, under the provisions of AR 600-45, 22 September 1943, as amended, and under authority contained in Circular No 32, Headquarters European Theater of Operations, United States Army, 20 March 1944, as amended, the Distinguished-Service Cross is awarded to:

First Lieutenant Glenn H. Warren (then Second Lieutenant) 01015976, Infantry, 82nd Armored Reconnaissance Battalion, 2nd Armored Division, United States Army, for extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against the enemy. On 8 August 1944, while reconnoitering a route through Mortain, France, a platoon of an armored reconnaissance battalion, under command of Lieutenant Warren, met heavy enemy machine-gun fire. Lieutenant Warren, without fear or hesitation, brought his armored car forward, thus protecting the scout section and knocked out the enemy gun. When the advancing platoon was subjected to severe cross fire from two enemy guns, Lieutenant Warren personally manned a fifty-caliber machine gun and silenced the enemy weapons. Proceeding on to the center of the town, Lieutenant Warren was successful in disorganizing the enemy and knocking out another enemy machine-gun position and an antitank gun. During this intense action, he radioed his platoon to withdraw. With complete disregard for his own personal safety, Lieutenant Warren dismounted from his armored car and filled it with wounded men. After clearing a path for his car, he climbed to the forward deck of the vehicle and successfully completed the withdrawal. The extraordinary heroism and courageous actions of Lieutenant Warren reflect great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service. Entered military service from Indiana.

Sergeant Adolphus W. Whidden, Jr., 34455220, 65th Armored Field Artillery Battalion, United States Army, for extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against the enemy. On 5 October 1944, during an attack on the [redacted] across 3000 yards of open terrain, two men were wounded. Due to [redacted] in the open terrain, first-aid men stated that it was impossible to [redacted] unarmored ambulance to the location. Thereupon, Sergeant Whidden, section chief, with utter disregard for his own personal safety, drove a one-quarter ton unarmored truck to evacuate the wounded. Driving a one-quarter ton unarmored truck across the open area in the face of enemy fire, [redacted] moved the wounded men to safety. Not only once, but four times did Sergeant Whidden courageously cross the exposed area to [redacted] to wounded men, four of whom undoubtedly would have died without medical treatment. The extraordinary heroism and courageous actions of Sergeant Whidden reflect great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service. Entered military
