I — SILVER STAR. Pursuant to authority contained in AR 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, and Memorandum 34, Headquarters Ninth United States Army, 8 September 1944, as amended, a Silver Star is awarded to the following enlisted men of this command:

Staff Sergeant Albert L Rawcliffe, 32759579, Infantry, United States Army, for gallantry in action near * * * , Germany on 13 February 1945. While he and five men were maintaining an outpost, Sergeant Rawcliffe observed an enemy patrol emerge from a nearby woods. Waiting until they were within fifty yards of his position, he adjusted artillery fire on the enemy and annihilated them. His courage and devotion to duty in remaining in an exposed position while ordering his men to the basement of a house during the artillery barrage are in accord with the best traditions of the Army. Entered military service from New Jersey.

Sergeant Foster A Marks, 6386214, Field Artillery, United States Army, for gallantry in action near * * * , Germany on 2 March 1945. When two men were wounded by enemy artillery fire, Sergeant Marks left the comparative safety of his tank destroyer and, amid enemy machine gun fire directed at him, succeeded in placing the more seriously wounded man aboard the tank destroyer. While so engaged, Sergeant Marks was severely and painfully wounded in both wrists by the enemy machine gun fire, but despite his wounds, he returned to the second wounded man and brought him to the vehicle. Sergeant Marks' fortitude, courage, and devotion to wounded comrades while disregarding his own safety, bespeak such gallantry in action as to be in accord with military traditions. Entered military service from Georgia.

Private First Class Vallie Buckner, 38340680, Infantry, United States Army, for gallantry in action near * * * , Germany on 2 March 1945. While riding one of the lead tanks spearheading "Task Force * * * " during the drive to establish contact with United Kingdom Forces, Private Buckner, a rifleman, was hit by an anti-tank projectile which almost severed his leg. In spite of the severe pain and rapid loss of blood, he calmly took careful aim, killed the three-man gun crew and forced the officer in charge of the gun to surrender. His gallant action made it possible for the column to continue its swift advance and prevented casualties and loss of equipment. Entered military service from Texas.

II — SILVER STAR (OAK-LEAF CLUSTER). Pursuant to authority contained in AR 600-45, dated 22 September 1943, as amended, and Memorandum 34, Headquarters Ninth United States Army, 8 September 1944, as amended, in addition to the Silver Star previously awarded, a bronze Oak-Leaf Cluster is awarded to the following officer of this command:

Captain George Melochick, 01312697, Infantry, United States Army, for gallantry in action in the vicinity of * * * , Germany on 25 February 1945. When the assault platoon of Company B, * * * Infantry, ran into a heavily mined section, and was subjected to concentrated mortar fire during the course of an attack against * * * , Germany, Captain Melochick, commanding Company B, immediately went forward and assumed command of the platoon, whose leader had become a casualty. Upon learning that the radio operator had been wounded, and his radio destroyed, Captain Melochick personally secured another radio rather than ask one of his men to traverse the mined area. Upon his return he rallied the troops who had become disorganized, and led them forward. He was rendered unconscious by the near burst of a mortar shell, but, upon regaining consciousness, refused evacuation and led
